City of San Diego Invites Everyone to Enjoy Parks and Recreation Spring Events

EGG HUNTS, CRAFT WORKSHOPS AND SCAVENGER HUNTS PLANNED AT RECREATION CENTERS CITYWIDE THIS MONTH

SAN DIEGO – Spring has sprung and the City of San Diego's Parks and Recreation Department is celebrating the season with a lineup of free and family-friendly special events taking place at recreation centers this month.

Activities including egg hunts, craft workshops and scavenger hunts continue through April 19. More than 50 events are planned at recreation centers and parks across San Diego, with events scheduled at various times of day, and something for everyone to enjoy a "hopping" good time.

"While the outdoors can be enjoyed in San Diego year-round, spring is one of the best times to get out to our parks and recreation centers to enjoy these fun activities," said Andy Field, Director of the City's Parks and Recreation Department. "It is a priority of the Parks and Recreation Department to ensure that we provide programs that the entire family can enjoy together, and this lineup of spring events does just that."
